Abstract	In 1812 the General Land Office was established to superintend and execute all transactions involving public lands except the work of surveying and mapping. In 1849 the General Land Office was transferred to the Department of the Interior. The functions of the Office were to supervise the survey, management, and disposition of the public domain and generally to execute all laws relating to public lands. In 1946 the General Land Office was consolidated with the Grazing Service of the Department of the Interior to form the Bureau of Land Management.

Historical note

The Offices of the Secretary of the Treasury and the Register of the Treasury were responsible for the disposition of the public domain from the time of the establishment of the Federal Government until 1812. In 1812 the General Land Office was established as a Bureau with the Treasury Department to superintend and execute all transactions involving public lands except the work of surveying and mapping. In 1849 the General Land Office was transferred to the Department of the Interior. The functions of the Office were to supervise the survey, management, and disposition of the public domain and generally to execute all laws relating to public lands. In 1946 the General Land Office was consolidated with the Grazing Service of the Department of the Interior to form the Bureau of Land Management.

Collection Overview

These records consist of record duplicate field notes and duplicate original plats of survey for resurveys of the Qualla Boundary. The Qualla Boundary was first surveyed in 1876 by M. S. Temple. The resurveys were all executed by cadastral surveyors with the Bureau of Land Management.

Historical note

The Qualla Boundary is the name for land in North Carolina held in trust by the United States Government for the Eastern Band of the Cherokee Indians. The main part of the Qualla Boundary lies in eastern Swain County and northern Jackson County and a small part extends eastward into Haywood County. There are many smaller non-contiguous sections to the southwest in Cherokee and Graham counties. The total land area of these parts is 82.6 square miles.

Existence and Location of Originals note

The original plats and field notes for these surveys are filed at the Bureau of Land Management, Eastern States Office, 7450 Boston Boulevard, Springfield, Virginia 22153.

Processing Information note
